About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

THIS IS THE THIRD and final column on Dr. Clark R. Vost's opinions on the men who have contributed most greatly to our national life. We already have taken up five. Here are the others:

"It is probable that Andrew Jackson contended against greater odds than Lincoln. His father, a poor farm laborer, died before Andrew's birth.

"A soldier of the Revolution when only a boy, left an orphan when 14, he had almost no formal education. However, he was admitted to the bar before he was 20; was public prosecutor in what is now Tennessee when 29; a member of the U. S. House of Representatives when 29; a U. S. Senator when 30; a major general in the militia when 35; a major general in the regular army when 47; commander-in-chief of the Southern division of the army and a national hero when 48; again U. S. senator when 50; and President when 59.

"Jackson was fearless, an undeviating patriot, a supporter of the federal union; and was devoted to his home and his loved ones. An amazing career."

THEN THERE WAS JAMES MADISON, the "Father of the Constitution," advocate of complete religious toleration, member of the Continental Congress, the Virginia legislature, the Constitutional Convention, author of 30 of the 38 Federalist papers, member of the first House of Representatives.

"He proposed the first ten amendments to the Constitution and the resolution that led to the creation of the first three executives."

File Land Damage Suit

Hazel Wright, Rita and Floyd Schwartz and Dollie and Alvin Farmer have filed a land damage suit in circuit court against Ben H. Nation.

The complaint, filed for the plaintiffs on Feb. 17, 1955, leased oil and gas rights in Section 8, 9S-5E (Carrier Mills township) to the defendant and that an oil well was drilled in November, 1955.

The complaint, filed for the plaintiffs by Atty. Trafton Dennis, charges that crops and land were damaged by the operation and asks for $710 damages.

Fire Damages Porch

Fire did slight damage to the porch at the M. P. McDonald home, 200 North Webster, at 1:40 p. m. yesterday. Fire Chief L. G. Martin reported today.

Rites in Gallatin County Sunday For Chas. Pearce

Services will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Mt. Olive church in Gallatin county for Charles A. Pearce, well known farmer of the Omaha community who was stricken with a heart attack and died suddenly yesterday morning while driving a truck four miles east of Omaha.

Rev. Don Rister will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body at 3 p. m. today will be taken from the Smith and Edwards funeral home in Ridgeway to the family home to lie in state. Mr. Pearce leaves his wife, Clara; one son, Albert Arnold Pearce, who is a student at Southern Illinois University; a brother, Roy Pearce, of Norris City, and the following sisters: Mrs. Ruby Thompson, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, Norris City, and Mrs. Eva Aleman, Long Beach, Calif.

Alcoholic Husband Kills Wife in Crowded Store, Surrenders to Police

DETROIT (UP)—A gun-waving alcoholic who shot and killed his wife in a crowded department store as shoppers watched in horror surrendered to police early today in a downtown hotel room.

Homicide squad officers said Rolin J. Jackson, 52, was located during a routine check of hotel registers. They said the fugitive had registered under his own name.

Jackson was taken without a struggle. Officers said they knocked at his door and told him they were from room service.

Jackson touched off a huge police search Friday when he strolled into the crowded basement of the J. L. Hudson Co. and, pistol in hand, began stalking his wife, Helen, 50, through the crowd of terrified shoppers.

Mrs. Jackson, a shoe clerk in the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mankin of Golconda.

Miss Judy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Anderson of Elizabethtown, has been selected from the students at the Rosiclare Community high school.

From the Shawneetown high school is Peggy Sheets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sheets of Shawneetown.

The Equality Township high school has selected Miss Dephane Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Walters of Equality.

Receiving the honor from the Cave-in-Rock Community high school is Miss Elsie Kaegi, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Kaegi of Cave-in-Rock and the late William Kaegi.

Representing the Galatia Community high school is Miss Linda Braden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Braden of RFD 2, Galatia.

These girls were chosen on the basis of dependability which includes truthfulness, honesty, punctuality, service, cooperation, helpfulness and responsibility, leadership, personality, self control and initiative and patriotism, which is unselfish loyalty to American ideals.

The Michael Hillegas chapter, which is the Harrisburg chapter of the D. A. R., will present these students with a pin and a certificate of award at a special dinner in their honor. Their names will be sent to the State D. A. R. to await the drawing on March 12, 1957, to determine the state winner who will receive a $100 government bond.

Baby in June For Margaret Truman Daniel

NEW YORK (UP)—Practically the whole world heard that Margaret Truman Daniel is going to have a baby. But down in Zebulon, N. C., her mother-in-law said: "Oh, is it true? I hadn't heard."

Mrs. E. C. Daniel first learned she was to become a grandmother when a reporter called her Friday.

E. Clifton Daniel, her only son, who is married to former President Truman's daughter Margaret, announced Friday that he and his wife are expecting their first child late in June. He is assigned to the city desk of the New York Times.

However, former President Truman had heard the news and was enjoying the idea of becoming a grandfather for the first time. He and Mrs. Truman are vacationing in Florida.

Margaret, who will celebrate her 33rd birthday Sunday, was in seclusion at the couple's new Manhattan apartment. They moved from their hotel apartment three weeks ago to make room for the baby.

The young Mrs. Daniel's television career has also been set aside the make preparations for the event. She is under a one-year contract with the National Broadcasting Co., which did not commit her to a specified number of appearances. The contract became effective last Sept. 1.

View Shifts in Russia as Attack On New Unrest

Experts Doubt Gromyko Appointment Means Tough Policy

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. officials today viewed the top-level shift in the Soviet Foreign Ministry as the beginning of a new attack on unrest inside the Soviet Union. Experts studying the surprise shift of Andrei A. Gromyko for Dmitri Shepilov as Soviet Foreign Minister doubted that it meant the start of a tough new foreign policy.

They said the bulk of available evidence indicates that Shepilov has been shifted from the Foreign Ministry to take on the job of bucking up sagging interest for the Communist Party and its ideology on the homefront.

Western officials for many months have been hearing significant reports of unrest, dissatisfaction and disillusionment inside the Soviet Union. They have chiefly involved questioning of Soviet policies by workers and students. Most of the reports followed the fall uprising in Hungary.

Shepilov is regarded as a crack propagandist and party politician "reared" by Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Now he has been shifted to be a secretary of the Communist Party's central committee — a post he dropped just last December. In his new job, he could open a new campaign designed to quell questioning of the Red regime's policies.

Experts pointed out that Gromyko is admirably fitted to direct a tougher Soviet foreign policy. But they doubted that the Soviets can or will make any "sharp turn" in foreign policy so long as they are beset by satellite troubles and home unrest.

Bradley Petition Seeks Release from Prison

Clifford Bradley, sentenced to a one to life term for burglary in Saline county circuit court in 1940, has filed a petition for habeas corpus in circuit court in an attempt to gain his release.

His petition, which contends he should have received a one to five year sentence instead of one to life, and makes other allegations, asks the court to order the petitioner be brought into open court for a hearing on the matter.

Democrats in Long Branch Name Candidates

Democrats of Long Branch township held a caucus Thursday evening to nominate candidates for the township election to be held early in April.

Nominated were: William Anthony for supervisor; Cloyd Pingleton for assessor; Charles Benson for clerk; J. W. Roberts for justice of the peace and John B. Adams for constable.

Forest Shows Growth

Shawnee Planting Boosted to 46,000 Acres; 1.7 Million Recreation Visits

The tree planting program in the Shawnee National Forest last year was increased by 2,200 acres of new plantations to a total planted area of 46,000 acres for the entire forest, it was revealed today in a digest of 1956 activities in the Forest.

The Shawnee National Forest, which has its headquarters in Harrisburg with L. P. Neff the supervisor, is composed of six ranger districts with stations at Elizabethtown, Jonesboro and Vienna in Illinois and Doniphan, Poplar Bluff and Winona in Missouri.

Of the total 46,000 acres planted, 38,000 acres of reforestation has been completed in Illinois and 8,000 acres in Missouri.

Approximately 5,000 acres are still in need of planting, it was stated.

The report also showed that the timber harvest from the forest in

Second Honeymoon

Queen Elizabeth Flies to Portugal For Reunion with Husband, Prince Phillip

LISBON (UP)—Queen Elizabeth bade farewell to her children at Buckingham Palace today and flew off to join her husband here for a weekend "second honeymoon" ending four difficult months of separation.

Prince Phillip, who has been around the world and back since he last saw his wife, was waiting at Montijo military airport outside Lisbon.

His long absence had led to rumors of a royal rift.

The skies of Britain and Portugal burst into springy sunshine on the day of their reunion after a week of wet weather in both countries.

Strict security arrangements went into effect this morning at Montijo, chosen instead of Lisbon's big commercial airfield because the arrival of the Queen is private.

"It is Elizabeth Windsor who arrives today by air," a Portuguese official said. "Queen Elizabeth arrives on Monday when the state visit begins."

Elizabeth's departure from London was brisk to the point of eagerness.

She quickly and informally said goodbye to her children and her mother at Buckingham Palace.

She rode swiftly and alone to London Airport. There was a swift formal bon voyage from Prime Minister Harold MacMillan and then, for the space of one brief weekend, the cares of state were left behind as the royal Viscount airliner sped toward Portugal.

Strict royal protocol forbade the young Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh to show any sign of affection in public at their reunion. They were to have but a few minutes of privacy when the queen's plane landed.

Army Bows to Tradition, Keeps Funeral Horses

WASHINGTON (UP)—Army tradition and love of horses have won out over thirty motorized funerals.

For more than 92 years the Army has used a caisson pulled by horses to bury officers with military pomp at Arlington National Cemetery.

At present the Army maintains a special stable of 16 matched gray horses for military funerals at Arlington.

But this year the Army took a long thrifty look at the tradition.

It figured out that funerals with a horse-drawn caisson cost $175. Funerals with motorized hearses cost only $215.

So the Army decided several weeks ago that as of June 1, the horses had to go. A roar of complaints from congressmen and other upholders of tradition followed immediately.

The Army bowed to the opposition Friday and took the horses off the auction block.

Wayne Baker is Flight Officer for United Air Lines

Wayne A. Baker

Wayne A. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker, 322A East Poplar street, an experienced pilot with more than 1,700 flight hours to his credit, has been named a flight officer for United Air Lines. After intensive indoctrination at the company's Denver flight training center, he has been assigned to Mainliner flights out of Chicago.

Baker graduated from U. S. Aviation Cadet Training School in 1953, subsequently serving a two year tour of duty in the Far East and Alaska. He attended the University of Illinois.

In becoming a flight officer for a scheduled airline, Baker has entered one of the world's fastest-expanding careers for men. United now has nearly 2,000 captains, co-pilots and flight engineers operating a fleet of 185 aircraft on the company's 14,000-mile system.

Seek Ownership Of Abandoned Car

City police today were seeking to determine ownership of a 1951 Dodge found abandoned on South Mill street and believed to be a stolen car. The car had been noticed by residents of the vicinity since Wednesday.

Police also received word from Carbondale police that an auto had been picked up there with license plates that had been issued to Mrs. Denzil Pearson of Harrisburg, that the plates apparently had been stolen off her Buick.

Investigation revealed that the plates were stolen off the Pearson auto on the Endicott Buick parking lot, where it had been left for repairs. They were 1957 plates.

Holds Talks On Mid-East, Soviet Shakeup

Conference Held With President on Vacation in Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UP)—President Eisenhower met early today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge who were rushed here for talks on the Middle East situation and the recent Russian shakeup.

The President scheduled a break-fast conference with his two top foreign affairs leaders at Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey's Milestone Plantation, where Mr. Eisenhower is spending a vacation.

The President conferred with Dulles and Lodge for 45 minutes late Friday night after they arrived at Spence Air Force Base at Moultrie, Ga., about 37 miles away.

The results of the top-level conference were not announced, but White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Dulles would probably release a statement following today's meeting.

Hagerty said Friday night's talks were undoubtedly on the Middle East—"particularly the Israel situation."

Eban Rejects Plan

Before leaving Washington Friday, Dulles held an 80-minute meeting with Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban. During the meeting Eban was reported to have rejected, in effect, the Dulles plan for withdrawing Israeli troops from Egypt.

Informed sources in Washington said Eban considered the Dulles plan fails to offer Israel enough protection from the Egyptians.

The State Department expressed "regret" over Eban's failure to give Dulles a "responsive" answer to the American plan.

However, Dulles said Eban feels the American proposal does not offer Israel sufficient assurances that Egypt will not make overt counter moves.

It was certain that the President, Dulles and Lodge would also discuss the appointment of Andrei Gromyko as Soviet foreign minister, replacing Dmitri T. Shepilov.

The President got in some more hunting Friday. Mr. Eisenhower, who bagged an elusive 22-pound wild turkey Thursday, tried for another gobbler but failed to find one.

Mossman Rites at Equality Monday

Funeral services for Fred Mossman, Equality man who died yesterday morning in the Ferrell hospital, will be Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Equality. Rev. Glennon Sims will officiate and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The congregation will meet Sunday at 8 p. m. at the A. K. Moore funeral chapel in Equality for rosary.

Gov. Stratton Signs Appropriation Bills For Auditor Office

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The first bills stemming directly from the Hodge scandal were signed into law Friday by Gov. William G. Stratton.

The bills appropriated $369,259 in new money for the Hodge-looted state auditor's office and allowed transfer of another $290,000 to help make up shortages in the office.

The money will enable the auditor's office to pay its bills through June 30. The legislature passed the bills on an emergency basis.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Dr. Walter J. Wills, marketing specialist at Southern Illinois University, believes that farmers will find cattle prices under some pressure through March because the number of cattle on feed is greater than a year ago, and farmers have indicated they will market about 45 percent of these cattle during the first quarter of 1957.

Wills bases his assumptions on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's annual report of cattle on feed January 1. The number in the feedlots this year is from four to five percent more than in either of the last two years for the country as a whole. Illinois farmers had about eight percent more cattle on feed January 1 than a year earlier.

The big three states in the cattle feeding business are Iowa, Illinois, and Nebraska in that order. Iowa had more than twice the 560,000 feeder cattle in Illinois feedlots January 1. California, Minnesota, and Indiana followed in order behind Nebraska.

There may be some strengthening of the cattle market after March, but Wills thinks it doubtful that there will be as much of a seasonal rise as the farmers enjoyed in the summer of 1956. Last year farmers had marketed about half of their cattle on feed by the end of March. This year they will have about 55 percent left on feed at the end of the first three months. Undoubtedly, this is because increased numbers this year were put on the farms as calves or as lighter weight cattle and will be moving to market a little later than in 1956.

Some dairy production figures from the St. Louis milk shed will point up the growing trend toward larger dairy herds and better producing dairy cattle. For example, the average daily production per producer in this region was 289 pounds in 1947. In 1955 this had increased to 376 pounds, and last year the average daily output was 429 pounds per producer.

Wills says this upward trend in pounds of milk per producer is evident throughout the country. It is but a part of the agricultural revolution that is in progress under pressure of increased operating costs and the growing efficiency of farming enterprises.

The above and many other facts about agriculture today only emphasize the thought that things on the farm aren't like they used to be. Earl M. Hughes, widely known farmer near Woodstock, Ill., called it an industrial revolution in agriculture when talking to SIU students recently. It got started in a small way a half-century ago, but the changes in agricultural development since just before World War II have been of almost breathless rapidity. Not only has there been advancement in mechanization, but rapid strides have come in the development of improved plant varieties, in better livestock, and in chemistry for agriculture.

The result has been that the total farm output has more than tripled since 1910. Livestock production is up one and one-half times but the production of food grains has been increased five-fold. Yet, the farmers of America are able to produce all this increase with 40 percent fewer manhours than in 1910. This advancement in agriculture resulted in doubling the output per farm worker between 1920 and 1954.

Let's take a few examples of the growing mechanization as pointed out by Hughes.

In 1910 there were 1,000 tractors on American farms; in 1955 there were 4,750,000. For combines the contrasting figures were 1,000 and 960,000. There were no corn pickers in 1910 but in 1955 United States farmers were using 665,000.

This shift in kind of motive power on the farm, of course, spelled decline in the use of horses and mules. In 1934 the number was down to 4,600,000. The change in motive power meant a shift in the use of the acres formerly devoted to producing food for these horses and mules, a revolution in itself.

Forage Sorghums Outyield Corn in Silage Tonnage

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Forage sorghums are consistently outyielding corn in tonnage of silage per acre in Southern Illinois, according to Herbert L. Portz, crops specialist in the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture.

Forage sorghums have been tested in comparison with U. S. 13 corn for two years at the Carbondale Cooperative Agronomy Research Center, jointly operated by SIU and the University of Illinois. The average 1956 forage yield of 20 varieties of sorghums tested was 21.7 tons per acre. The corn yielded 16.3 tons of forage.

In averaging the results of similar tests at Dixon Springs, Champaign, and DeKalb with those at Carbondale the difference was slightly less. Forage sorghums produced an average of 21.3 tons per acre while corn forage production averaged 18.8 for the same locations. All production figures are on the basis of adjustment to 70 percent moisture.

The top-yielding half dozen forage sorghum varieties for the four locations were Sart, Sugar Drip, Tracy, Kansas Orange, Nebraska Experimental No. 17, and Sumac 1712. All yielded between 23 and 29 tons per acre, but the late-maturing Sart and Tracy had poor grain development. Several others produced above 20 tons.

Increasing Interest
At the Carbondale station, Nebraska and Sumac failed to measure up to the average for the four locations, while two others—Meridian 52-1 and Texas Honey Sorgo—not grown at all the other locations, ranked in the top six.

Portz says the silage value of the forage sorghums is about 90 percent that of corn for livestock in general, but is nearly of equal value for dairy cows. New developments in breeding hybrids show prospects of increasing the feed value of forage sorghums, but as yet few have been released to growers.

Because sorghums are adapted to dry, hot weather such as often occurs in Illinois in midsummer and early fall, there is an increasing interest in this crop for feeding purposes. One distinct advantage is that they may be planted late if other crops fail, or they may follow a small grain harvest.

Portz points out three problems to consider in growing forage sorghums and in selecting varieties for planting.

1. One is susceptibility to diseases. Some of the newer experimental hybrids seem to be much less susceptible to disease than some of the long-season standard varieties such as Sart or Meridian 52-1.

2. Lodging, too, often is a problem and is not a desirable characteristic when selecting varieties to plant.

3. Insects need watching. Earworms and army worms hit sorghums at the Carbondale station but were controlled by spraying with Dieldrin.

Recommended Varieties

Southern Illinois farmers need to select varieties of forage sorghums to fit their cropping program, Portz says. For the future, hybrids look good, combining fair yields of forage with higher grain content to produce better feed. Nebraska 14A seemed the best of three Nebraska entries and a DeKalb hybrid, showed excellent grain yields. All are early maturing. None of these hybrids are commercially available this year. Among the recommended early maturing standard varieties are Kansas Orange, Sumac, Atlas and Axtell. Sugar Drip has shown up well at Carbondale and Dixon Springs as a full-season crop even though disease gave some trouble in this variety.

A good fertility program similar to that used for corn is helpful in getting good forage yields from sorghum. The recommended seedling rate is five to eight pounds of seed per acre with plants spaced at about two inch intervals in the row.

Illinois Farmers Only Halfway to Top Corn Yields

URBANA—Illinois farmers have made only a little more than half as much progress in boosting corn yields with soil treatments as they could make. A. L. Lang, University of Illinois agronomist, backs up this statement with 1956 yield figures from 2,239 corn plots on the 23 soil experiment fields over the state.

Lang points out that corn yields on all untreated soil plots averaged 27 bushels an acre in 1956. On the plots where the best soil treatments were applied, yields averaged 97 bushels an acre. The average corn yield for all Illinois farms last year was 68 bushels an acre.

So farmers did average 41 bushels more corn an acre by using soil treatments than they might have if they had used no treatment at all. But if all farmers had followed the best balanced fertility program that we know how to use, Lang says they would have been able to average another 29 bushels an acre.

If this extra yield had been obtained on all of the 8.8 million acres harvested in Illinois in 1956, it would have added more than 257 million bushels to the crop. At $1.25 a bushel, farmers would have had $322 million more income from corn.

On the dark soils untreated plots averaged 46 bushels an acre, while those with full treatment made 108 bushels. On the light soils, the untreated plots averaged 11 bushels while the full-treatment plot made 92 bushels.

five departments (State, Treasury, War). He was secretary of state under President Jefferson for eight years, a federalist turned anti-federalist, the husband of Dolly Madison and President for two terms.

"And there was James Monroe, author of the Monroe Doctrine, who held more high offices than any other American—officer in the Revolution, member of the Virginia legislature, the Congress of the Confederation and the U. S. Senate, minister to France, to England and to Spain, governor of Virginia, secretary of state, secretary of war and President.

"Every young American should know more of Daniel Webster—patriot, statesman, senator, defender of the federal union, incomparable orator; of Robert E. Lee, one of the greatest military leaders of all time, who deplored slavery as did Washington and Jefferson; who opposed secession and who was a knight of honor, courage and purity always motivated by duty as he felt it.

"They should know more of Woodrow Wilson, scholar, statesman, publicist and peerless advocate of peace to be made effective in a world parliament and by 'open covenants openly arrived at' of Theodore Roosevelt, who did not await the psychological moment to act but who created that moment; of William J. Bryan, three times a candidate for the Presidency, the Great Commoner, like Clay the Great Compromiser, failed of election, but much of what he advocated has since become national policy.

"And finally there is Franklin D. Roosevelt, irrepressible under physical handicap the greatest iconoclast since Jefferson, the greatest politician since Lincoln, popular as Jackson, the 'strongest' President and the most magnificent experimenter of the century."

Missionary from Canada to Speak At Church Here

Elder Cecil Robbins, who was born and reared in western Canada, will speak over WEBQ Feb. 18, 22 at 10:30 a. m. and for two weeks each night at 7:30 in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 10 East O'Gara street.

Mr. Robbins is a member of the first quorum of the seventy of the church and comes from Vancouver, B. C., having served two years in Wisconsin and three in southeastern Illinois.

Mr. Robbins, together with his family, which consists of his wife, Donna, and two year old boy, Gerald, say they appreciate deeply the friendliness and hospitality of the people of Illinois with whom they have shared many happy religious experiences.

Mr. Robbins has had a rather wide acquaintance and worship in various denominations and came in contact with the Reorganized Latter Day Saint movement at the age of sixteen, joined it, and was called and has served in several offices, as a deacon, priest, elder, and now as a seventy. He says he is gratefully happy to serve in Illinois and hopes to spend much more time here; however at the General Conference of the church in Independence, Mo., in 1958 he is subject to be appointed to any place in the world.

Humphrey Sees No Signs of Recession

WASHINGTON (UP)—Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey says there are "no signs of a recession."

He made the statement behind closed doors to a House appropriations subcommittee Jan. 25. The testimony was made public Friday.

Humphrey previously had warned that continued high government spending could lead to a depression that would "curl your hair."

He made his new comments on the economic outlook when asked about the administration's budget forecast of increased government tax revenue in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Humphrey said it was based on an assumption of continued prosperity through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, and there is "no reason" to change the assumption.

In Memory

In loving memory of our dear son and nephew, Ralph LaRowe, who passed away Feb. 16, 1955: Dearest Ralph, how we have missed you, Since from earth you have passed away. Sad our hearts, but sweet the memory, As we think of you today. We who have known and loved you, And whose parting brought sad tears, Will cherish your memory always To brighten the drifting years. In our heart is a lonely spot, Your bright face used to fill, But nothing can take your memory That shines there and always will. Your memory is to us a keepsake With which we will never part, Though God has you in His keeping. We'll always have you in our hearts. Sadly missed by his mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Allen, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lucy Hubbard. *195-1

ANSWER THIS QUESTION

Am I My Brother's Keeper?

Those words do come from the Bible. And they have sometimes been quoted to justify a man's lack of concern for the welfare of others.

When we quote Scripture we must be careful WHOM we are quoting!

It was Cain, the first murderer, who asked that biting question. God had said, "Where is Abel, thy brother?" And Cain was trying to escape the consequences of his crime.

Each of us is responsible for his brother's welfare. That is the very reason this feature is appearing in your newspaper.

You and your family need the spiritual resources our churches offer. In whichever Christian congregation you select there, are waiting to welcome you many men and women and young people whose faith has taught them a deep concern for their brothers.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Warning and Invitation of Jesus'

'Parables of the Kingdom'

Matthew 13:31-32

GOLDEN TEXT: "The Kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls, who when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it." (Matt. 13:45-46)

INTRODUCTION — A parable is a short story from which a moral or spiritual truth may be drawn. Jesus, the master Teacher, used parables in a most excellent way to teach moral and spiritual truths. Sometimes Jesus interpreted the parables he told. For example, the parable of the sower is interpreted by our Lord in Matthew 13:18-23. However, most of the parables he used he left for each reader to interpret for himself.

In the thirteenth chapter of Matthew Jesus told several parables to teach lessons concerning the kingdom of heaven. There we study today.

I THE MUSTARD SEED (V. 31-32)

Jesus here tells us that the "kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed." When the mustard seed is planted it begins to grow. If left to grow to its full height, it will become as large as a tree in which the birds can nest.

Jesus was saying that Christianity will grow. With a very small beginning it has spread to all parts of the world, and it is still growing. Let us note one thing, however. The mustard herb, or tree, was never intended as a nesting place for birds. Neither is Christianity meant to be a movement to include all people of the world. Only believers in the atonement of Christ for their salvation will ever be in the kingdom of heaven.

II THE LEAVEN IN THE MEAL (V. 33)

In the New Testament the word "leaven" is always used to picture evil. We have the same lesson taught here as in the parable of the mustard seed. The "leaven" in the meal is like any evil influence that comes into any Christian group. It will spread until the whole group is influenced. "Leaven" has a powerful influence. Let us beware of it.

III WHY JESUS USED PARABLES (V. 34-35)

Jesus used the parables to teach spiritual and moral truths. The prophets of old had foretold that Jesus would speak in parables. Jesus was now fulfilling that prophecy. Through the parables, Jesus revealed "secrets that had been kept from the foundation of the world."

IV THE HIDDEN TREASURE (V. 44)

Here Jesus likened the Kingdom of heaven to a field in which a man found a hidden treasure. That man sold all he had that he might buy that field for himself. This world is a field. Jesus called it a field several times. Jesus has a treasure in it. His followers makes up that treasure. One day this field (world) will be taken from the evil one (satan) by Jesus and given to the followers of Jesus.

V THE PEARL OF GREAT PRICE (V. 45-46)

This is our golden text. The sinner has nothing he can sell and then purchase salvation. Salvation is not for sale. (Ephesian 2:8). On the other hand, Jesus gave all he had and purchased our salvation.

VI THE NET FULL OF FISH (V. 47-50)

Every church on earth has some folks in them who will not go to heaven. Many people have been attracted to Christ and the church. Many profess Christ who do not possess him. When the Judgment Day comes, there will be a separation of the good from the bad. The unbelievers (even those in churches) will be cast into hell.

CONCLUSION (V. 51-52)

Jesus here tells us that we are to study God's Word. When we have gained understanding, we are to go out into the world and teach, and preach, and win others to him. Are you witnessing for him?

South Carolina Ace Takes Lead In Cage Scoring

By United Press
Red-hot Grady Wallace, South Carolina's talented shot-maker, regained the national college basketball scoring lead today in his blazing three-cornered battle with Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Forte.

The 6-foot, 4-inch Wallace—who's eight inches shorter than Chamberlain and seven inches taller than Forte—racked up 44 points Friday night in leading South Carolina to a 97-79 victory over Virginia. The spree gave him a total of 642 points in 21 games to a 30.57 average compared to Chamberlain's 29.94 mark and Forte's 30.16 average.

Chamberlain and Forte have an opportunity to regain the lead Saturday night when Kansas opposes Missouri and Columbia plays Dartmouth.

Kentucky, the nation's third-ranked team, crushed Loyola, Ill., 115-65, and fifth-ranked Bradley shaded Loyola (New Orleans, 73-72, at Chicago in the two biggest games on Friday night's program.

Coach Adolph Rupp's Wildcats set two Chicago stadium records—total points for one game and 43 field goals in one game—enroute to their 18th victory in 22 games. Sophomore Johnny Cox tallied 22 points in the first half and added 12 in the first nine minutes of the second half to lead the rout.

Bradley enjoyed a 15-point lead early in the second half but it took a field goal by Barney Cable with 13 seconds left to play to lift the Indians to their 17th win in 20 games. Loyola's second-half rally enabled it to lead by one point three times late in the game. Bobby Joe Mason was high-scoring for Bradley with 25 points but it was Cable who came through with the key baskets late in the contest.

In other important games Friday night, Idaho State downed Montana State, 82-70. Brigham Young whipped Colorado A&M, 81-66. Pennsylvania defeated Penn State, 77-68. Temple beat Duquesne, 64-60, and Brown downed Princeton, 88-69.

Spider Webb Licks Neal Rivers For 18th Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—"Three more fights and then a shot at the title," was today's schedule for Spider Webb, Chicago's spring-steel middleweight contender who Friday night gave Neal Rivers a bloody, lopsided licking for his 18th straight victory.

Increasingly confident after his impressive Madison Square Garden debut, the lanky Spider said, "My next bout will be at Chicago Stadium, March 13, probably against Joey Giardello. And after that we want Tiger Jones, then Charley Humez of France — to clinch the title shot."

Fourth-ranked Webb, weighing 158 pounds to 157 for Rivers of Las Vegas, Nev., had the game far-Westerner bleeding from both brows and from the mouth and nose. And eighth-ranked Rivers was so groggy and exhausted in the final round that he fell down, without being hit, for a count of nine. Referee Harry Kessler ruled it a "knockdown," apparently to give Rivers a respite—instead of stopping the bout, as many of the 2,500 fans were urging.

Eagles Dump McLeansboro In Loop Tilt

Eldorado practically sewed up the championship of the Southern Illinois conference Friday night by jarring McLeansboro 77-62. The game was played at McLeansboro and gave Eldorado a clean sweep the home-and-home series with McLeansboro for this season.

The Eagles also have beaten Johnston City and have a game in the conference yet to play at Metropolis. Eldorado is the only unbeaten team in the league.

Eldorado, after trailing at the quarter 14-11, ran up 21 points in the second frame and held a 32-27 halftime advantage. The teams played on even terms, 15-15, in the third quarter, then the winning Eagles had a 30-point final frame to ice the verdict.

Don Kingery, senior forward, led the Eldorado attack with 24 points. Two teammates, Ben Dempsey and Marty Fequay, hit in double figures with 13 and 14 respectively.

Sandusky's 20 was tops for McLeansboro.

Eldorado hosts Harrisburg tonight and plays three times next week—at Norris City Tuesday, entertains Metropolis Friday and travels to Carrier Mills Saturday to end its regular schedule.

McLeansboro ends its season entertaining Du Quoin Friday.

Maxine Downey Crowned Queen As Galatia Wins Twin Victories

Miss Maxine Downey, a member of the Galatia Community High school Junior class, was crowned Basketball Queen of GCHS for 1956-57 Friday night.

Coronation ceremonies, held on the gymnasium stage beautifully decorated in the Valentine theme, came between twin basketball victories for Galatia over visiting Shawneetown.

The full evening's program started with Galatia taking a 72-53 decision in the preliminary game, then came the coronation, followed by a close, thrilling 78-72 Galatia win in the varsity contest.

Queen Maxine was crowned by Gene McFarland, basketball captain.

Other members of the court and their escort: Miss Linda Braden, senior, and Elbert Cantrell; Miss Barbara Hale, junior, and Phillip Odle; Miss Brenda Pulliam, sophomore, and Bud Hankins; Miss Sharon Pritchett, freshman, and Dale Tate.

The crown bearer was Miss Brenda Starkey, Basketball Queen of 1955-56.

Cheerleaders and team members formed an honor guard, with the following participating: Miss Peggy Mitchell and Gary Hill, Miss Brenda Malone and Don Wickham, Miss Sue Fowler and Lasley Kimmel, Miss Shirley Malone and Jamie Duane, Miss Jo Ella Knight and Larry Jones.

Rally in Final Period
Stage decorations were in red and white, and a large red heart was directly back of the Queen's throne.

Shawneetown, with Monroe and Shell leading the attack, held a 10-point, 39-29, halftime lead over favored Galatia and the visitors were still ahead, 53-49, after three quarters of action.

But Galatia rallied for a big 29-point final frame while holding Shawneetown to 10 points less and won out 78-72.

The Galatia players were especially accurate at the free throw line, hitting fourteen in a row in the last quarter before missing on the fifteenth effort. For the quarter they had a 17-2 free shooting record and for the entire game hit 22 and missed but nine. Shawneetown's free shooting record was 24-14.

Cantrell of Galatia was the game's top scorer with 24 points, followed by Hill, who played only the last half, with 16. Shell and Monroe, with 20 and 19 respectively, were high for Shawneetown. Galatia now has but two games left on its schedule, playing at Zeigler Tuesday and hosting Cave-in-Rock Friday.

Locals Climb Out of Cellar with Victory; Play at Eldorado Tonight

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs jumped out of the South Seven basketball cellar, leaving Benton there alone, when they defeated the Rangers, 68 to 64, in an overtime game played at Benton.

The Bull Dogs, who now have won two conference games—both from Benton—compared with one Ranger win—over West Frankfort—travel to Eldorado tonight for a non-conference game. The locals beat the Eagles in their previous encounter.

A good-sized gathering of Harrisburg fans was on hand last night to see the locals climb out of last place in the conference. They saw Ray Hassett play magnificently and the other boys play good basketball in winning.

Henshaw Ties Score

They saw Harrisburg go ahead at 14-12 with two minutes to go in the first quarter and hold the margin except for a tie at 33-33 until midway in the last frame, when the Rangers took the lead at 55-54.

Coach Ralph Davidson's boys increased the margin to 57-54, but Hassett connected with a field goal and Jim Cummings with two free throws to put Harrisburg out in front again, 58-57, with two and a half minutes remaining in the game. With a minute, 45 seconds left West of Benton hit for a field goal and Pete Ross made a free throw to give Benton a 60-58 lead and the game just seconds from being over.

However, with six seconds remaining Bill Henshaw connected from the side, about 10 feet out, for his only basket of the evening and the game was tied at 60-60.

In the overtime Bennie Fulkerson, Hassett, Cummings, then Stone again connected with field goals while West and Ross were hitting for Benton.

Harrisburg for the most part played smooth basketball, and it was the outside shooting of Ross and the closer shots by the two Benton big boys, West and Hungate, that kept Benton in the scoring. Hassett of Harrisburg was high scorer of the game with 24 points.

The Bull Dogs had an eight-point lead late in the third quarter and a 54-49 lead with five minutes left before Benton spurred to force the game into an overtime.

The locals, who played without Charles Cummings, first-string forward at home in bed with the measles, led 20-16 at the quarter, 33-31 at the half and 50-47 at the end of the third quarter.

Coach John Dotson started Charles' twin brother, Jim Cummings, in his place. Part of the time Dotson used Henshaw and Stone at forwards, Hassett in the pivot and Cummings and Fulkerson at guards. Then he would bring back Hassett to guard in using other offensive setups. John Zeigler, who got into the game a

Mantle Advised To Quit Golf

NEW YORK (AP)—A fretful Casey Stengel, obviously worried over Mickey Mantle's swollen knee, advised his star slugger to "lay off golf" today because "he certainly ought to know which sport gives him his bread and butter."

Stengel's anxiety mounted by degrees at St. Petersburg, Fla., when he learned Mantle's right knee was bothering him so that he had to use an electric cart to get around the course while participating in the annual Baseball Players' Golf Tournament at Miami, Fla.

From Miami, Mantle admitted over the phone that his knee was swollen but he insisted it was nothing serious.

"It didn't interfere with my golf swing and I'm sure I'll be perfectly okay by the time spring training opens," he added.
